Job Description (Shortened version):	• Full-time, permanent Skin Science & Trials Specialist reporting to the Head of Product Development • Design and manage structured user trial programmes, from recruitment through to results sign-off • Conduct baseline and follow-up skin analyses using professional skin analysis machinery, including Meicet • Compile clear, evidence-based results reports for the product team • Manage all trial admin, documentation, scheduling, and participant communication • Brief the content and marketing team on what the evidence supports: identifying strongest results and defensible claims • Support retail partner training on skin analysis and product recommendation • Contribute clinical perspective to NPD and formulation review • Comfortable on camera and in person: able to speak confidently and naturally to their expertise for content and educational purposes • Ideal candidate is a qualified somatologist who is precise, organised, analytically minded, and genuinely passionate about skin
Qualifications Required:	Fully qualified Somatologist (NQF Level 5 minimum), SAAHSP registered. CIDESCO or ITEC advantageous.
Experience Required:	Minimum of 3 years+ credible references
Salary:	What we offer Competitive basic salary R25,000 – R30,000 per month, negotiable depending on experience and qualification level. Performance bonus We reward people who perform. A competitive performance bonus structure is in place, linked to clear targets reviewed regularly with the Head of Product Development. Full product allocation Every month, you an allocation of Lelive skincare to use, to live in, and to know inside out. If skin is your thing, this matters. Flexible, hybrid working model We trust you to manage your time. This role operates on a hybrid basis structured around what the work requires, not a rigid desk schedule. Real scope, real impact This is not a treatment room role. You will work directly with the Head of Product Development, shaping how our products are built and what we claim about them. Your clinical insight feeds into formulation decisions, NPD briefs, and the evidence that sits behind every product we take to market.

	A brand worth believing in We are on a mission to become the largest skincare brand in the world, from Africa. We are building something with a point of view: skincare grounded in African botanics, science-backed claims, and results we can stand behind. If that matters to you, you will fit here.
